Notice of Construction Work

May 20, 2013

The Massapequa Water District (MWD) will be rehabilitating the May Place elevated water storage tank beginning August 1, 2013. The work consists of removing the existing paint and repainting the tank. A containment system will be used to contain the old paint during removal and to prevent new paint from damaging residential property. The project is expected to last through the end of the year. However it is possible that it could last until the spring of 2014 depending upon the weather conditions and other influences. In order to complete this project a great deal of equipment and trailers must mobilize on District property. Some of this equipment will generate noise. MWD has limited the hours of work in consideration for its local residents and has taken the necessary steps to minimize residential inconvenience.

In preparation of this work it will be necessary for the cell carriers to remove and relocate their equipment off the tank and onto a temporary monopole on site. This work will begin sometime in early June 2013.

Please understand the May Place water tank is the Districts only elevated tank which helps maintain water pressure for residential use and emergency firefighting. It is imperative that this tank be properly maintained on a routine basis. It is not expected to be required again for approximately 10 -15 years. If you have any questions or if issues arise during the project please feel free to call me at the above number.

Thank you for your understanding.

Stan Carey, Superintendent
